Presentation

Here is the latest for a memorable run down the Isere: white-water swimming. Equipped with flippers and a float known as a hydrospeed, you will discover all the finer points of white-water thrills. The River Isere offers you a broad panel of sensations thanks to the variety of its flow: a calmer part for discovering white-water swimming or for relaxing, strong and not-so-strong rapids for a bit of action, authentic recesses for enjoying the landscape or even small secretive spots for having even more fun...A whole programme along the water for complete enjoyment while surfing down the river!

This programme's "must": Being in direct contact with the water and learning to surf on the waves
